HUGH M. QUIGLEY JR. AND HIS BRIDE, THE FORMER ELIZABETH A. HELLER.
(Eagle Photo)

(Turn to Page 18, Col. 3, for Story)

Hugh Quigley Weds Bride In Baptist Church

Elizabeth Heller, Bridegroom Are Local Teachers

ELIZABETH A. HELLER became the bride of Hugh M. Quigley Jr. yesterday in the First Baptist Church. The Rev. Earl W. Allen officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Arthur I. Heller of 126 S. 5th St., and the late Mrs. Heller. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh M. Quigley Sr. of 536 N. Wilson St. Bellefonte.

The wedding principals are local teachers. The bride, who was graduated from Reading High School and Kutztown State College, is a teacher in the Fifth and Spring streets school and the bridegroom, a graduate of Pennsylvania State University, is a teacher at Gov. Mifflin Junior High School. He served in the U.S. Air Force and received a master's degree in education from Penn State.

Mrs. John R. Gallagher was the matron of honor. The best man was Henry C. Quigley, Wilmington, Del., a brother of the bridegroom. The ushers were William H. Foster, Woolrich; Stanley A Ulsh, Ansonia, Conn.; Dean C. Porterfield, Simsburg, Conn. Mrs. Jan Strausser played the wedding music.

The newlyweds will honeymoon to the New England States. They will reside at 94 Mull Ave., Sinking Spring. A pre-wedding party was given by Mrs. Clarence Henry, an aunt of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a princess style gown of bombazine silk that was fashioned with a portrait neckline and short sleeves of Alencon lace accented with pearls and iridescents. The full skirt ended in a chapel train. She carried a bouquet of Glamellia surrounded by spaethphyllums with ivy foliage. Her veil of illusion with pearl accents descended from a crown of pearls.

The honor attendant wore a ballerina-length gown of taffeta styled with a square neckline and a bouffant skirt. She wore a matching taffeta headband and carried a crescent bouquet with apple-blossoms.

To go to a wedding
To see Betsy marry Ol' Mike

Mike's Father and Mother
His Sister and Brother
Are speeding down Lancaster Pike

The Bride dressed in white
Was a beautiful sight
As she walked down the aisle to meet him

Mike smiled all the while
His Pepsodent smile
As the Minister turned round to greet him

The words were then said
And Mike proudly led
His beautiful Bride down the aisle

The Kith and the Kin
Were agog and agrin
They hoped it would last for a while

They bought a new house
Complete with a mouse
That ate up the needle point seats

Mike got out a broom
And swept out the room
And the mouse went elsewhere for treats

Dear Sir,

I would like to make a reservation for two persons for the night of Saturday, June 24, 1961. Since I am making the Waldorf-Astoria the first stop of my honeymoon trip, I am interested in a pleasant, single room with double bed. Although my budget will not allow something really luxurious, a room that is a little more special than usual would be nice.

My bride and I plan to arrive at approximately 8:30 Saturday evening and to depart before noon Sunday. We also plan to have our Saturday evening dinner and Sunday breakfast at the Waldorf.

I would appreciate confirmation of this reservation in the near future and am willing to forward a deposit if you desire.

Thanking you for your kindness and hoping to hear from you soon, I remain,

Sincerely yours,

Hugh M. Quigley, Jr.

Take It Easy

This is a good gravel road with an average grade of 12 percent, and all cars should make the ascent with ease.

If your car has "overdrive" be sure to take it out of overdrive before starting up.

Go all the way up in Low Gear and your engine will cool much better.

Come all the way down in Low Gear.

Do not turn off motor coming down.

Take all curves well on your own side of the road. Another car may be coming around the same curve.

Do not "ride" your brakes.

Cars with Automatic Transmissions should stop several times on the way down and check their brakes. If they are hot, stop 15 minutes and let them cool.

Cars coming down should give the right of way to cars going up.

Do not drive over 15 m. p. h. at Any Time

TAKE IT EASY

And enjoy your trip. The finest in the east.

This road was opened August 8, 1861 and it has been in operation ever since.

WELCOME HOME, FOLKS!

Well, how was it? I trust I will hear! Just to fill you in on what went on after you ~~two~~ pulled away in the VW: first, I almost got run over by a bus as I took one last picture of your car disappearing down the street. Then a good part of the crowd began a slow migration to the A. L. Hotel where Bud Harmon & gang were already well on the way, having slipped out to the Elks Club during the reception several times to get a drink. Joe & A.H. and I tried to avoid them and have a quiet interval in A.H.'s room, but we were seen, and soon descended upon, although, before the whole group arrived, we, now joined by Ma, sneaked down to ~~his~~ her room in a real coup. But alas, Pop found us after Harmon said he'd seen us in A.H's room, and everyone accused Bud of being pretty far gone because he didn't know apparently which room he'd seen us in. Well, about 15 or 20 people congregated in Ma & Pa's room, including the Walkers, Nolls, Harmons, Mahoneys, Rugleys, Orrs, etc. etc. There was noise of all sorts — from Bud Harmon's crude jokes and comments to Mrs. Walker saying such things as "Joe & Henry certainly get along well as brothers-in-law". About 6:30 or so, the Harmons staggered out, taking Mary McCormack with them to dinner, late it was learned that Bud fell ~~als~~ asleep half-way through a steak in the English Bar & Grill of the Hotel and ~~he~~ Anna & Mary put him to bed. The rest of us carried on for several more rounds and then Bricky Walker who is a good friend of the A.L. Hotel Manager got us a big table for 12 or so in the main dining room where we all had a huge, sobering, smorgasbord dinner. Very good. Then everybody took walks around the block in groups of two or three. Typical groups: Ma & Earl Orr; Winifred, Julia, & Ray Noll; Joe, Ellen, and I; Pop walked out one door and in the next, being the first back to his room where the party gradually resumed. In fact, the full group had returned by about 9:00 PM ~~and~~ (except the Loch Haven people who only gave an incoherent murmur when Pop knocked on their door). At 10:23 PM, fire whistles started blowing, and interrupted the party every five minutes as various people, especially A.N., Ma, and Ellen & I (the small towners) ran to the window. Finally Ellen & Joe & I left the fading party at 11:20 to see the fire which had received several more alarms — watched it smoke for 2 hrs. Many firemen overcome — Ellen & I almost caught one in our arms as he staggered out. ~~Back at~~ Fire was at 725 Penn street. Back in Joe & Ellen's room 2:00 AM. Then who should join us but Bud Harmon! Horrors — then Anna followed. Both in pajamas.

T-wally to bed at ~~3~~2:30 or so. Then a fierce pounding on my door 5½ hours later, and upon pulling on a pair of pants and opening the door, in come Bud Harmon in a bathrobe, Ellen in a night gown, and Pop in his shorts! Bud & Pop were after my bottle of Jack Daniels which they very quickly found. Ellen was just watching. It was earlier than I wanted to get up but I was soon in the middle of the party which A. H. soon joined too. Then we all went down and had a really big, enjoyable breakfast in the hotel — eggs, potatoes, sausage, etc. Good sausage, Ellen ate mine and I griped so loud that Bud & Pop ordered a whole plate full for all of us and we all enjoyed it. Then at noon or so, everyone packed — a small party in Pop's room, then the Harmon's went west, the Maloneys, Ma & Pa, Nolls, Orrs, etc went East (to Allentown for dinner at the Valley Country Club), and Aunt Anne and I took off with the top down in a southerly direction. We stopped at Hopewell village first, the old iron furnace & village, and enjoyed that. Then we followed back roads to the Brandywine and ended up finally in Wilmington after a very scenic drive. Went through the duPont powder mills, then had supper at the duPont Country Club — very good roast beef — same as Ma & Pa had at the Lehigh Country Club with the Walkers. Then I showed A.H. my apartment (an after dinner liqueur and some music) then put her on the 7:45 train and she was back in her apartment soon after 10:00! Ma & Pa & the Maloney's got home from Allentown about 8:00 PM. I called N.Y. & Bob about 10:30 to see if all had gotten home ok.

So — a very good weekend for all of us, despite a lot of rain, noise and maybe a little too much booze. Now, let's hear what you two have done since we last saw you! Why not phone me some night? — or when you get settled! Regards, Hank

Dear Ma & Pa, Ellen & Joe, Henry, Aunt Heinie, Uncle Bo & Mimi,

There are so many things we want to tell all of you that I thought I'd use the carbon copy method, if you will please forgive me.

First of all, we very sincerely thank you all very much for all the wonderful presents you gave us, all the things you did for us, and for being present at the wedding and helping to make it such a pleasant success. We just feel so lucky and are truly grateful to all of you and the many other people who were kind and generous. (Betsy is sitting at the other end of the dining room table, and we were just discussing how inadequate words are to express our feelings about all that has happened to us and how much we really appreciate it.)

The second reason for this letter is to tell you of our wonderful trip. In general, the weather was perfect the whole time; what little rain we had came at non-interfering times. The only day that was too hot was this past Sunday on our way home down the New York Thruway. Well, as you know, we departed on the 24th in a shower of rice and confetti (a lot of which is still,in the car, and a lot of which we unloaded halfway between here an d the turnpike interchange; it was in our hair, down our necks, and simply everywhere), and we arrived in N.Y. around 8 pm where we freshened up a bit in our luxurious Waldorf living room (with bed alcove), followed by a delicious dinner in the Waldorfkeller, a new German restaurant in the Waldorf. On Sunday we headed north toward Cape Cod, stopping in Newport, R.I., to see the sights there, and arrived at Hyannis rather late and stayed in a pleasant little motel (complete with breakfast in our room) for two nights. All day Monday we explored the Cape clear out to Provincetown, including considerable time in Catham where we had a delicious lunch at an old folks' home by mistake, with many little side journeys on back roads to the beach, etc. The sand arpund Provincetown is fascinating. On Tuesday, after a scrumptious Polynesian dinner Monday night, we headed towards Boston, stopping in Plymouth to see the Rock and Mayflower II. We arrived in Boston early enough to cover the Freedon Trail, a walk on foot through Old Boston to see all the items of interest (you will all have to see the many slides we took of everything), followed by dinner at Durgin Park and then a Boston Pops concert; very delightful. We stayed at the Bellvue and Wednesday morning strolled through the Commons and Beacon Hill, and then we took in MIT and Harvard and the Bunker Hill Monument (which is on Breed's Hill) on our way out of Boston. We saw the House of Seven Gables (it really does have 7) and just missed a witch-burning in Salem. We got to Gloucester at a beautiful time in the afternoon to see some gorgeous harbor and fishing-boat scenes. We spent Wednseday night just north of Portland, Me., and started Thursday by tramping over the Desert of Maine, arriving in Bar Harbor (and Acadia National Park) in time for delicious whole-lobster dinners. It was the first time I had ever eaten a whole lobster, but it was delicious. Friday we explored Acadia Park, which was really very beautiful with its moutains and rocks and ocean. You have to be there to appreciate it, but our pictures will be second best. Friday night we spent in N.H. just before entering the splendor of the White Mountains (some with patches of snow) and we drove to the top of Mt. Washington on an 8-mile dirt road, Saturday; very windy at the top but worth it for the view. We continued driving Saturday down through the Green Mountains (Pennsylvania has equal beauty) and stayed in Bennington, Vermont. Sunday was simply a hot drive home, where we arrived around 9:30. We were tired, and the house was a mess (still is, somewhat), but the trip was really a pleasant one.

Greetings!

There was too much gab between Betsy and me during that first part that it got too late to finishe.

Arriving home last Sunday evening, we discovered about 6 or 8 more wedding presents to open, which, of course, we opened right away. All day Monday we made some attempt to get at least a little organized, but there were so many routine things to do (like cutting the grass and washing and shopping for food) that we we didn't make much headway. The furniture was every which way and everywhere we looked we saw wedding presents and the wrappings they were in. As of today, however, we are beginning to see some signs of order. The cellar is overflowing with boxes and wrappings, a job I must tackle this afternoon. Of course, in the midst of all this confusion and excitement at home, I had to plan for the opening of summer school Wednesday (July 5) and have been teaching every morning from 8 to 12 since then. I have one class in remedial algebra, which is most enjoyable (25 pupils) and a class in enrichment math (15 pupils). It should prove to be a worthwhile program.

With the arrival of Aunt Heinie's furniture while we were away, we have one complete room: the dining room. The corner cupboard of Aunt Heinie's fits in perfectly (not too high at all, AH) and the room is a pleasure to eat in. We were giddy with delight when we had our first real meal there Monday ngiht (baked beans and hot dogs!) Wednesday Night, however, Betsy produced a really fine meal: baked ham (AH style), baked potatos, and corn pudding (Ma style). Very good. And to have breakfast waiting for me in the mornings is a real traet.

Well, that's about it for now. We both can hardly wait until we will be able to have all of you come visit us (not all at once, please!)

Much love and many thanks to all of you,
